This applies to communications on organisational and technical-qualitative aspects. Any documentation required must be requested from the relevant person, copying the email to acq@gtsspa.eu.

PRICES: In the purchase order header it is possible to check whether the prices were derived from the supplier's offer or from historical prices. If they are historical prices and there have been changes, it is necessary to notify GTS of the price change in writing, and possibly sending the changed order by email to GTS. This operation must be done immediately, to avoid any misunderstanding or mistakes and define the order before shipping the goods.

Any changes made to the product or its process, or suppliers or other substantial changes, must be communicated and approved by GTS.

Order confirmation means re-forwarding our order stamped and signed for acceptance. The stamp and signature must be placed in the spaces provided on the last page of the order.
